MURDERER IS DEAD

TRAGEDY REMAINS MYSTERY

Found to be Robert Emmet Eastman, Failed Broker of New York—Denied the Crime in Letter. Facts About Case.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

St. Michaels, Md., June 25.—The last tragic chapter in a story of crime unparalleled in this section of the country was written in the early dawn today when the man accused of the heartless murder of pretty little May Edith Thompson Woodill, a spectre-like form fleeing in a skiff from a posse of determined, relentless pursuers, stood for a moment facing the men who had cornered him on the waters of a narrow creek, then fired a bullet crashing into his heart and fell a lifeless lump into the bottom of the boat which he hoped would carry him to a landing place where flight might be possible.

Taking his fate into his own hands and blotting out untold the story of the death of a girl who had moved in the highest social circles of Baltimore, Washington and Los Angeles, a beautiful, talented girl who had been a protege of Lyman J. Gage, and of former Governor Frank Brown, of this State, the man known here as Emmet E. Roberts, but who in reality was Robert Emmet Eastman, a failed broker of the Consolidated Stock Exchange, of New York, passed beyond the reach of the law and with his going there vanished the hope of clearing up the motive and the baffling details of this strange tragedy.

Shortly after midnight this morning a mysterious looking craft was seen moving up the waters of the Black River, along the shores on which are the homes of Colonel Thompson and Roberts.

It is unusual to see a small boat out in the river at such an early hour and John McQuay, who has a farm on the point making out into the creek near Bozman, notified Sheriff Mortimer and Magistrate Willy, who were at St. Michaels.

McQuay said the boat looked like the one in which Roberts escaped from McDaniel and that the man in it looked like the missing author.

Sheriff Mortimer, Magistrate Willy and a posse of six men all armed hurried to the scene. The sheriff and two men obtained a boat and rowed leisurely after Roberts while Willy and party followed along the shore line until Roberts was abreast of the landing place.

Willy commanded Roberts to throw up his hands. Roberts rose in his boat and fired. The posse replied with three shots. Roberts was found dead in the boat shot through the mouth. Roberts had a bottle of poison in his possession.

A letter found upon Eastman's body, addressed to Miss Vinnie Bradcome, care of Klaw & Erlanger, New York, gave Eastman's ill-sustained excuse for the crime. It was a rambling account of how he had been out in a launch with a party of men and women, all of whom had been drinking to excess with the exception of himself and Mrs. Woodill; of how one of the women in a fit of jealous frenzy had attacked Mrs. Woodill with a wine bottle and killed her; how the remainder of the party had taken flight, leaving him to dispose of the body, and how, as a means of escape from all of his troubles the writer had decided to end his life. Eastman asked Miss Bradcome to hurry to Maryland to

THE TELEPHONE HEARING

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 25.—The Corporation Commission devoted today to hearing evidence and argument on the part of the officials of the Southern Bell Telephone Co., in support of the petitions filed by the company to be allowed to increase the telephone station rates in Wilmington and Asheville.

The increase amounts to 50 cents per month on both residence and business stations in Asheville and 50 cents on residence stations only in Wilmington. The case as to Asheville was heard first this forenoon, the showing being that the company has a contract with Asheville to the effect that when the standard of the service should be brought up to include a suitable special telephone building with standard equipment, underground wires and 2,000 local stations, the rates could be increased as now petitioned for. This condition, the officials now claim, is fully complied with and the sanction by the Commission of the increased rate is asked. The contract and testimony on the part of the officials constituted the bulk of the evidence. No one appeared to oppose the increase, although there are petitions from citizens of both cities objecting to the increase. The commission has a letter from the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce to the effect that the Chamber now approves of the increase for that city, this in spite of the fact that some days ago a notice was sent that there would be a delegation from the Chamber to oppose the change. Southern Bell officials here for the hearing were President W. T. Gentry, Vice President J. M. B. Hoxsey, General Superintendent of Plants T. L. Ingram, Chief Engineer George J. Yundt, General Counsel Hunt Chipley and Attorneys A. S. Bernard, Asheville, and A. B. Andrews, Jr., Raleigh.

The hearing on the Wilmington situation was concluded this afternoon and the Commission reserved its ruling until a later date without naming any time for any subsequent hearing by either side. Testimony of J. M. B. Hoxsey showed that the Southern Bell has realized during the past four years less than 3 1-2 per cent. on its investment in Wilmington and less than 1 per cent. in Asheville. J. W. Crews, General Commercial Superintendent of the Southern Bell, was an important witness, reciting just what the rate of charges in Wilmington were, all classes of service except special business lines being increased just 50c per month. Mr. Crews explained the agreement with the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce and proposed a suspension of the increased rate until October 1st and an obligation on the part of the company not to increase again until thereafter the exchange has 3,000 subscribers with standard equipment. The Commission received today a counter petition of citizens protesting against the increase and against the action of the Chamber of Commerce. A number of telegrams came during the day from citizens who had not signed this petition but wanted to go on record against the increase. The Commissioners say altogether about 50 citizens of Wilmington are protesting through petitions and telegrams.

Two big new cotton mill corporations received charters today with capital aggregating $1,150,000 for Burlington and Bessemer City. The Burlington concern is The L. Banks Holt Manufacturing Co., capital $1,000,000, by L. Banks Holt, Mary C. Holt, and L. B. Williamson. The Bessemer City corporation is the Akron Manufacturing Co., capital $150,000 by J. H. Mayes, Charlotte, F. M. Miller, Jr., Richmond, and T. C. Guthrie, Charlotte.

Frank Bruton, serving four years from Buncombe county for the larceny of $11, receives a pardon from Governor Kitchin on the ground that two and one-half years already served is sufficient punishment. The judge, the solicitor and many citizens petitioned for the pardon, which is conditioned on good behavior.

RIDLEY CASE DISMISSED.

Atlanta Woman Charged With Theft of Diamonds Several Months Ago.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Newark, N. J., June 25.—Mrs. Francis J. Ridley, of Atlanta, Ga., today had the case which has been pending against her here for several weeks, thrown out of the courts. She was indicted on the charge of having stolen $2,000 worth of jewelry belonging to Mrs. Andrew A. Albright, of New York, with whom she was a fellow-passenger on a train from the South to New York early this year. On motion of the prosecution the indictment was nolle prossed. Mrs. Ridley was accused of having taken the satchel containing the jewelry, the property of Mrs. Albright, from the ladies' room of a Pullman car where its owner had left it. When arrested Mrs. Ridley explained that she was taking the satchel to turn it over to the railroad authorities.

CORPORATION TAX

President Taft's New Plan Presented to Senate.

TWO PER CENT ON INCOMES

Aldrich Secures Increase in Duties on Scrap Iron and Wire Nails—Duty of Half a Cent on Petroleum Defeated.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, June 25.—This was another of the Senate's active working days and by the time the Senate closed at 7 o'clock so many schedules had been considered and disposed of that Mr. Aldrich freely predicted that by tomorrow night all of them would be out of the way, leaving the Senate free to begin consideration of the corporation tax and income tax amendments at the commencement of proceedings next week and to follow these with the administrative features of the bill.

Beginning the day's session with an increase of five per cent. over the House rate of 35 per cent. ad valorem on harness, the Senate marched steadily along throughout the nine hours of its sitting, indulging in very little speechmaking and acting upon many important provisions. Among the changes made were: An increase of the duty on scrap iron from 50 cents to $2.50 per ton, thus placing it on the same level as pig iron; an increase of 1-4 of a cent per pound over the House rates on wire nails; an increase of from 4 to 6 cents per pound on monazite sand and thorite and other articles used in the manufacture of gas mantels, and the substitution of specific for ad valorem rates on files, rasps, etc.

Increases over the House rates were made as follows: On harness from 35 per cent. ad valorem to 40 per cent.; on scrap iron from 50 cents to $2.50 per ton; and on wire nails from 1-4 to 1-2c and from 1-2 to 3-4c per pound, the former for those less, the latter for those an inch or more in length.

Toward the close of the day Senator Penrose, of the finance committee, but not specifically for the committee, presented an amendment fixing a duty of 1-2c per gallon on crude oil, and after considerable debate it was disagreed to.

Senator Penrose spoke at length in support of his oil amendment, declaring that it met the approval of the independent producers and refiners. The oil fields of Mexico figured extensively in this dissection. Senator Gore declared that they were a myth.

During the day the linoleum and oil cloth schedule was re-cast so as to apparently meet the demands of the insurgents, and was adopted with the understanding that if it should be satisfactory upon inspection in the record the schedule could be re-opened tomorrow.

Just before adjournment for the day, Senator Aldrich presented the corporation tax amendment, approved by President Taft, stating that he hoped the Senate would be in position to take it up for consideration Monday.

In general form the corporation tax measure follows the outline given after the conference at the White House on Tuesday night, when the subject was considered by the President, lawyers of his Cabinet and Senate and House Republican leaders. As drafted by Attorney General Wickersham and Senator Root the measure is believed to be amendment-proof and an effort will be made to put it through Congress unchanged. It will be designated at "the Taft plan", the weight of the President's name being depended upon largely to encompass its enactment.

Briefly stated, the plan imposes a tax of 2 per cent. upon the net earnings of every corporation, joint stock company or association, organized for profit and having a capital stock represented by shares, and every insurance company, organized under the laws of the United States or of any State, territory or district, or organized under the laws of any foreign country and engaged in business within the United States.

Every latitude is given to concerns subject to the tax for the exemption of expenses, cost of maintenance, the depreciation of property, debts and the interest thereon, other forms of taxation and all expenditures usually taken from earnings accounts. Every corporation is also given an exemption of $5,000 of earnings before the tax shall apply.

All of the machinery relating to the collection, remission and refund of internal revenue taxes is made applicable to the corporation tax and the responsibility for the enforcement of the proposed law rests with the commissioner of internal revenue in the same manner as other internal taxes.

While the corporations are required to supply information of a most intimate character relating to their business provision is made to safeguard them against wrongful use of data obtained for the purpose of assessing the tax. Penalties are provided in case of false or fraudulent returns.

Practically every character of incorporated institution organized for profit is brought within the provisions of the corporation tax.

She Will Receive $36,000 a year—Mrs. Gould Rejoices Over Her Victory—Congratulated by Her Friends—Statement.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 25.—After a trial which lasted nearly three weeks, Katherine Clemmons Gould obtained a legal separation from her husband, Howard Gould, third son of the late Jay Gould, by a decision of Justice Dowling in the Supreme Court today. With the exception of alimony, her victory was complete, but in this phase of the case the court decided that $36,000 a year was sufficient, although in her suit Mrs. Gould asked for $250,000.

She has been receiving $25,000 a year from Mr. Gould so that the amount fixed by the court is but a slight increase compared with the amount sued for.

It was the vindication of the charges of intoxication and her alleged relations with Dustin Farnum, the actor, that Mrs. Gould scored most strongly, for notwithstanding the long array of witnesses for Mr. Gould who gave such testimony as to make Mrs. Gould appear at times as defendant rather than plaintiff, the court held that the alleged "intoxication" might have been due to excitement. As to Dustin Farnum, it was held that her association with him came after Mr. and Mrs. Gould separated and that the husband apparently made no objection.

Immediately after the decision Delancey Nicoll for Mr. Gould, asked for a 60-day stay of judgment and Clarence J. Shearn for the plaintiff was on his feet to object. He asked for an immediate judgment. Justice Dowling compromised by making the stay 30 days. Mr. Shearn then asked for an extra allowance for counsel fees and the court gave him $2,000. This, together with the $10,000 allowed recently, and the original allowance of $5,000, will bring his fees to $17,000, with an additional sum of $3,900 for expenses.

Friends of Mrs. Gould began to crowd about her as soon as the decision was announced. She had been somewhat lonely during the trial, but after the verdict she was kept busy receiving congratulations.

Judge Dowling's decision, said her counsel, "is a sweeping and complete vindication of Mrs. Gould. That has been the object of all this bitter litigation. Mrs. Gould could have compromised for a fortune at any time but would never consider for a moment anything but the opportunity of clearing her name in an open, public trial."

He added that either party in the suit could still bring action for absolute divorce, but that Mrs. Gould could not base such an action on charges involved in the suit just decided.

NEW YORK COTTON REVIEW

Week Ends With Situation Bullish. Crop Prospects Unfavorable, and Demand For Cotton Increasing at Home and Abroad.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 25.—It is a large extent a weather market during the week. The market promises to be sensitive to an unusual degree to adverse weather news during the remainder of the season. The official weather reports show that for the season from March 1 to June 21 there has been a surplus in the rainfall as compared with the normal of roughly 13 to 20 inches in parts of Alabama and from 7 to 15 in portions of Mississippi. The market has been flooded of late with serious reports regarding the situation, not only in these States but also in other portions of the eastern belt and there is a growing belief that ideal weather conditions during the remainder of the season will be absolutely essential to the raising of anything like a normal yield. Reports from Texas have been favorable in the main, owing to the fall of the beneficial rains but reports of damage from weevil, it is worthy of note, are increasing. It is contended by the advocates of higher prices that the plant in parts of Alabama and Georgia as well as Mississippi is so badly in the grass that considerable areas will have to be abandoned.

Meantime trade in cotton goods continues to expand. The advices from Fall River are cheerful. Mills in New Orleans are said to be carrying small supplies of the raw material. Stocks in Russian and some other continental mills are said to be at a low stage. Supplies of unsold cotton at the South are declared in many letters and dispatches to be unusually small. Good trade continues to show improvement and there can be no doubt that a large yield will be needed. The present outlook for the crop in very important sections leaves much to be desired. There has been a noteworthy broadening of the speculation of late. Unfavorable character of much of the crop news has encouraged outside public buying and strong interests in the cotton trade proper are committed to the bull side.

They puffed and blew, and puffed again,
Swinging clubs galore,
But Reuben had them under hack,
And Goldsy couldn't score.

A bunch of two hits by Levy and Kite, the former for an extra cushion and the latter after Jayes had passed "Handsome Harry" on to Station 3, on a neat sacrifice, in the second inning of yesterday's conclusion with Goldsboro, gave the Sailor lads the game by a score of two to nothing, making it two straights from the Giants with the third to play this afternoon.

Howard was on the slab for the locals and pitched a splendid game, yielding but six hits, all of them well scattered, and receiving the perfect support of his team mates with the exception of an excusable bad throw to first by Smith in the ninth inning which cost nothing. Forbes, for the visitors pitched almost as well but that double hit of Levy's with none down and the follow-up by Kite and the sacrifice by Jayes did the work in the run column for the regenerated Sailors. Levy played first base for Wilmington and Nichols was moved up to second in place of Sharp, who was indisposed and did not go in the game yesterday. He featured with the willow for the locals while Steinbach and Gettig were the "Kandy Kids" for the Horace King contingent, the former having tapped 'em out thrice out of four times up and Gettig having garnered two of the six safeties credited to the visitors. The team worked well and showed itself in winning form. The game in detail is as follows:

First Inning—Smith flew out to second; Gettig fanned; Sharp flew to short. Wilmington: Hemp singled to left and took second on wild throw from catch and third on wild throw from second; Nichols out, second to first; Smith fanned and Brodie was out, second to first, and the first chance to score is lost.

Second—Crockett fanned; Steinbach singled and stole second, Doak flew out to short, Stubbe hit by pitcher, but Fulton fanned. Wilmington: Levy led off with a double to centrefield; Jayes sacrificed; Kite singled to right and Levy scored; Conn and Howard fanned.

Third—Forbes flew out to short on pretty catch; Smith to Jayes; Gettig singled over second for a hit that should have been cut off either by Hemp of Nichols; Sharp up and Gettig caught at second. Wilmington: Hemp walked; Nichols sacrificed; Smith flew out to right; Brodie walked; Levy flew out to second.

Fourth—Sharp flew to Smith; Crockett out, second to first; Steinbach flew to second. Wilmington: Jayes hit to short too hot to handle and was sacrificed by Kite; Conn walked; Howard up and each man advanced a base on passed ball; Howard fanned; Hemp out, second to first.

Sixth—Smith out, third to first; Gettig singled through short; Sharp flew to Brodie; Crockett out, third to first. Wilmington: Levy out, second to first; Jayes and Kite third to first.

Seventh—Steinbach, first up, hit clean over second; Doak sacrificed; Stubbe and Fulton popped out to Kite. Wilmington: Conn out, third to first; Howard fanned; Hemp hit by pitched ball and stole second; Nichols singled over second and Hemp was caught at the home plate.

Eighth—Forbes singled to left; Smith hit to Smith and Forbes was out at second; Gettig fanned; Sharp flew to Levy. Wilmington: Smith out, third to first; Brodie flew to short; Levy singled over second; Jayes fanned.

Ninth—Crockett out, short to first; Steinbach hit to Smith who threw wild and runner took second; Doak

MANUFACTURING TOWNS.

North Carolina has many manufacturing towns and if you want to see a prosperous place and see prosperous farmers all you have to do it to drop into some of the State's manufacturing communities.

The town of Spray is a good illustration. For marvelous growth and activity, few places in the South can come up to Spray. It is in Rockingham county and acording to the Rockingham News, that town now has seven cotton mills, two woolen mills and numerous industries, and there is always a demand for laborers at good wages. The annual payroll is $755,000 and employment is furnished 2,670 persons. This is a showing much larger towns might well be proud to boast. It is all the more remarkable wen coupled with the fact that only a few years ago Spray was a small village with no factories at all. Really its existence began as a manufacturing town, for it was of no consequence until far-sighted and enterprising business men began to build factories there. Then it rapidly sprang into an important manufacturing centre and it has continued to grow and its business to increase with every passing year. It furnishes evidence of what energy and pluck on the part of a few business men will do and also shows what building up of former waste places in our State has been done by the manufacturing industry.

The Charlotte Observer, referring to Spray, says: "While it is gratifying to note what progress Spray has made through its cotton mills and other factories, it is still more gratifying to know that there are many Sprays on a larger or smaller scale in North Carolina. Each one demonstrates the value which every new cotton mill or manufactory of any kind is to its locality and the State as a whole, shows with what care the industrial interprises in our State should be fostered."

Cornelius is another North Carolina town that has been in existence only 17 or 18 years. It is in the upper portion of Mecklenburg county, and concerning this new manufacturing town, the Charlotte People's Paper says:

"Catawba avenue and adjacent territory, in the town of Cornelius, was the scene of active sales last Saturday when, according to advertisement, the Greensboro Realty and Auction Company disposed of about 25 lots out of a total of 50—these 50 representing a 10-acre tract situated in a most desirable part of town. About half of the tract will remain unsold till a later date. This land was bought by Mr. H. J. Brown, of Davidson, about five years ago for about $700, and in January he sold one lot for about $450. The 25 lots sold Saturday brought, in round numbers, $3,400. Cornelius is one of the most progressive, wide-awake towns in the State. It is located 18 miles north of Charlotte, on the A. T. & O. Railroad, one and a half miles south of Davidson College, in a fine farming section of this county. The town is in its minority as to age. Less than 18 years ago it was nothing but a wide place in the road, with plum bushes and briars growing around. Today they have two cotton mills, a large furniture factory where mattresses and upholstered goods are made, a pants factory, a wood and iron shop, a number of good stores, a thriving bank, lumber dealers, real estate and insurance offices, three churches, a high school well patronized; a population of 1,500 to 2,000. Cornelius is not like the great mass of new small towns, in the most of which everyone is pulling in a different direction. This is not the case with the citizens of Cornelius—they all pull together—hence the progress this town is making."

The towns of Spray and Cornelius are only two of the score of strictly manufacturing towns, built up specially on industries established in places where a few years ago there was no sign of a town. Of course, there are many more pretentious manufacturing centres in North Carolina, but we point to the growth and development of two strictly manufacturing towns in order to show how industries make prosperity. The factories give employment to many thousands of people, and in turn they consume what the farmers produce and agriculture thus comes in for its share of the benefits.

PRESIDENT'S NORTH CAROLINA VISIT.

The people of Wilmington were highly pleased yesterday when they saw in The Star's Washington dispatches and in the news published in our local columns that there is a strong probability that Wilmington will have a visit from the Republic's distinguished chief this Fall.

It is to be hoped that circumstances will be such that the President can take that Southern trip that he has mapped out, and if he does he has made it a condition that he will take in Wilmington.

The city and the whole of Eastern North Carolina will give the Chief Executive a rousing and hearty welcome. He has made a good impression upon our people, and North Carolinians feel like they are welcome at the White House. On Thursday in Washington several Tar Heels called upon him, as may be seen from the following sent to the Raleigh News and Observer by Mr. T. J. Pence, under date of June 24th:

"Judge H. G. Connor met the President today in company with Senator Overman and ex-Governor Jarvis. It was the first meeting between Mr. Taft and Judge Connor. The newly appointed judge received a most hearty reception from the Chief Executive. Of course Judge Connor expressed his acknowledgments in appropriate words, and thanked the President for the honor recently conferred upon him.

"'Hellow, Governor. You see I followed your advice,' was the greeting that came from Mr. Taft when he spied the grand old man of Tar Heeldom.

"'You have never done anything that pleased more the people of a State,' was Governor Jarvis' comment in reply. 'And I have not only come to congraguiate you, but I have the honor of accompanying Judge Connor and I want to present him to you.'

"Judge Connor and the President had a pleasant chat, and afterwards the Judge called on Attorney General Wikersham, with whom he discussed matters pertaining to the court.

"Ex-Governor Jarvis saw the Secretary of the Treasury with reference to the public building site at Greenville. He learned that there will be no decision until July 1st.

"North Carolina visitors include Attorney General Bickett, Mrs. Bickett and children; Colonel and Mrs. J. Arthur Narron and son, and Mr. and Mrs. James A. Wellons and sons, of Smithfield; L. H. Alfred, of Selma, and Colonel A. C. Davis, of Goldsboro.

"Representative Pou introduced to the President Postmaster J. D. Parker, of Smithfield, who desires a re-appointment. There are several applicants for the appointment."

Among the President's callers was also Mr. Leonard Tufts, the millionaire founder of Pinehurst, N. C., accompanied by Representative Page. President Taft accept an invitation from Mr. Tufts to play golf on Mr. Tuft's famous links at Pinehurst and as the run is only 11 hours from Washington the probability is that the President will soon take a run down to North Carolina.

SENATOR STEPHENSON DON'T KNOW MUCH.

North Carolina had a recent visit from Wisconsin's new Senator and some of his talk has roused up the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot to the point of expressing itself in this plain language:

"The Mr. Stephenson who lately purchased a seat in the United States Senate from Wisconsin, at a price nearly three times that which would have bought a membership in the Wall Street Stock Exchange, is visiting in North Carolina and favoring the benighted people over there with his opinion on public affairs Among other things, he says that the Tariff bill as finally to be adopted will be satisfactory both to President Taft and the Protectionists of the Aldrich school; but, the Senator was at pains to add. "How can we make reductions in the duties when it costs now to run the Government four times as much as when the Dingley act was passed?"

"Where did Mr. Stephenson acquire so low an estimate of the intelligence of our Carolina neighbors as to judge them incapable of detecting the falsity of suggestion in his closing query? It provokes us beyond patience and parliamentary language that men in high station should so betray ignorance or have the effrontery to repeat in public the demonstrated untruth that the higher the tariff the greater the revenues. The direct cause of the existing Treasury deficiency is the existing prohibitive tax on importations. Tariff revenue is only deducible from the charges collected on foreign articles entering our ports."

As a matter of fact Senator Stephenson ought to know better than to be going around handing out rot like that which stirred up the bile of our esteemed and able Norfolk contemporary. However, Senator Aldrich recently remarked in the Senate that it would take most of the Senators ten years to understand the tariff and no doubt he was telling the truth. Wisconsin's new Senator doesn't seem to know that both President Taft and Senator Aldrich are fully aware that the tariff bill now before the Senate levies such high duties that it will shut off imports to such an extent that it will not produce sufficient revenue for the Government. Hence, the President's proposition to put a tax of 2 per cent. on the net incomes of corporations, and later to so amend the constitution as to make still another raid on individual incomes.

The impression has always existed that Atlanta is in Fulton county but it turns out that the city has spread out into DeKalb county. The Atlanta man will now tell you that his town is always stealing a march on surrounding territory and for that reason it is impossible to "watch Atlanta grow."

Attention is called to the fact that Senator Aldrich has worn out two fancy vests this Summer. It is hardly necessary to call attention to the fact that he has also worn out the patience of the people with his bulldogacity in that long drawn out fight for a high tariff.

A North Carolina Republican who is seeking an office is never "down and out" till the funeral has actually taken place. He may be side-tracked for a while but he will sooner or later switch over onto the main line.

It is announced that icebergs are hereafter to be dynamited. This is bad news for the man who has grown rich and gives the cold shoulder to his poor buckra relations.

Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould, in her divorce suit, has been granted separation and $30,000 alimony a year. Well, she'll need the money if she don't get on the water-wagon.

"Does prohibition prohibit?" inquires an exchange. We might answer but even the thought that it comes very near it gives us the dry grins.

The person who introduces a woman to the mysteries of the Manhattan cocktail is laying up trouble for the head of the family.

Probably Mr. Howard Gould got mad because his booze supply so rapidly disappeared on account of bibulous habits in the family.

Talk good roads and let that conversation about the weather take care of itself.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—Uncle Sam's census takers are going to make it hard for some of those towns that have had it taken by the police and directory people.—Durham Herald.

—President Taft going to Wilmington some time this Fall? Not in a good while have we heard anything that made us feel gladder.—Charlotte Observer.

—When we criticise the Governor for granting pardons we should remember that he is often imposed upon as in the case of the healthy Greensboro buck who secured a certificate from a physician that he was in the last stages of tuberculosis.—Durham Herald.

—Figuring on the cotton grown in different counties in North Carolina, the Charlotte Chronicle estimates that the output could be easily doubled. Maybe so, but let us hope that it will not be, even if the price goes to 15 cents the pound. Cotton is all right as a money crop, but the all-cotton farming system means poverty and debt. The Landmark is gratified—and, of course, the Chronicle is, too—that the State does not live up to its opportunities in cotton growing, so long as it means, as we believe it does, more corn, grain, truck, grass, cattle, etc.—Statesville Landmark.

—The Chronicle a few days ago gave the cotton production figures for North Carolina, which showed that Robeson county leads in the production with 51,445 bales. We give the report for South Carolina elsewhere, and as it will be seen, that State has some large cotton producing counties. Marlboro county in South Carolina, borders on Scotland and Robeson, the two richest cotton counties in this State, the soil in the two counties being identical, and Marlboro's production last year was 58,598 bales.—Charlotte Chronicle.

—Says the Norfolk Landmark: "Mr. D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte, is proposed by the Wilmington Star, as American Minister to China, and we heartily second the motion. The the Star says, Mr. Tompkins is qualified both mentally and financially for the place." There is a point to the last sentence. Our ministers and consuls are given just about enough money to meet current expenses and they must make a close study of economy to save up anything. Very few successful business men would care for or accept a foreign appointment. It is strictly the job for the politician—for the man whose cry is, anything for office.—Charlotte Chronicle.

—The Raleigh News and Observer requests that those papers printing the "Simmons-Daniels" controversy do not mar the same by making extracts but should print it as a whole. We note that very few if any Democratic papers comply. However, The Republican publishes the respective documents entire, and with pleasure. They will afford some breezy reading and give some valuable inside political history which will keep without ice until the next campaign. The two leaders make the sparks fly and in so doing, mark the beginning of a very bitter contest in the ranks of the Democratic party and which will play an important part when forces are gathered to formulate plans and policies for the next campaign.—Winston Republican.

—Noting that the work on the Cape Cod canal, "which the Pilgrim Fathers laid out," has once more begun, the Philadelphia Inquirer voices the hope that it won't take 300 years more to finish it, declaring: "We are paying 20 wrecks a year for not having it now." The same thing and more is true of the proposed Norfolk-Beaufort inland waterway. Just how many wrecks we are paying annually for not having that we are unable to say, but the toll of ships and human life exacted by Cape Cod is small compared to that taken by Hatteras and Cape Lookout. Apart from the other numerous considerations involved, the safety of coastwise commerce alone is more than sufficient to demand the construction of the proposed inland route. The saving in property in one year would of itself amount to the cost of building, to say nothing of the saving in human life which is above and beyond valuation in dollars and cents.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

THREE LINKS
IN A CHAIN OF FATE.

By NORMAN P. WHITE.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

"Fate be hanged! There's no such thing as fate. Napoleon said, 'I will make circumstances.' And he did—that is, till they became too powerful for him by the union of all his enemies."

"That may do for Napoleon, but not for me. That I am a resident of this city, that I am the husband of my wife, the father of a boy named Alan and a girl named Lucia and that we are all rich is the result of not one incident—that wouldn't be so singular—but of a number of incidents happening in succession, the absence of any one of which would have made entirely different surroundings for me.

"The first incident was this: On a certain day a man took up a paper he had never seen before and saw an ad. of mine. I was a young lawyer, with no clients. I advertised to secure the care of estates. The man was a stranger in town and wished for some one to be agent for a building there. Seeing my ad., he came to me. If he hadn't seen it I wouldn't be talking with you now. He told me that the building, one of a scattered estate, belonged to some one he was looking for and couldn't find. The interview resulted in his giving me the agency, the building being a part of the Pendleton estate.

"One afternoon, being bored by having nothing to do, I went out and strolled into a vitascope show. One of the pictures was the arrival of an express train at Schenectady, N. Y. The passengers poured out of the cars, and one, a girl about seventeen years old, came walking, with a satchel in her hand, toward the audience. It seemed as if she were going to step right into the showroom. She had a timid look on her face, such as a girl might have arriving in a strange city. She was looking about her, fearing some of the many vehicles passing hither and thither would run over her. I wanted to go and put my arm about her to reassure her. Then suddenly she passed out of the picture.

"There was something in the face and figure that took hold of me. The performance lasted half an hour, then began all over again. I waited till I had seen my little girl get out of the train and run the gantlet of wagons and carriages three times. Not only that, I went to the show every day till the picture was taken off. By that time I was desperately in love. Odd, isn't it?

"The next in the chain of incidents was a trip to Schenectady on business. That was two years after falling in love with a moving photograph. While there I went into a merchant's office and saw sitting at a table jabbing type keys with her fingers—whom do you suppose? I recognized her at once—the original of my moving picture! What sent me to that city and that very counting room? Fate.

"Having found my love, I didn't propose to lose her. I learned her name—Evelyn Brickworth—offered her a better salary than she was receiving to work for me, and she joined me at the end of the month.

"You may rest assured I made it pleasant for her, and I made love to her in a delicate, gingerly way—she was very sensitive and reserved—and won her. But I was still a poor lawyer with too small an income to marry on, so she stayed on as my typewriter till I would be better fixed financially. That she might be of more assistance to me, I taught her to keep my accounts.

"One day the man who gave me the agency of the building I spoke of came to town, and I paid him some collections. He told me that he had been unsuccessful in finding the heirs to the estate, and he rather thought the provision made in the will in case they were never found would be carried out. The provision was that at the expiration of a certain period the property was to go to specified charities. That period would expire in a few months. I asked him if he knew who the heirs were. He said he knew that all were dead except the children of Eliza Pendleton. At the name Eliza Pendleton I noticed that my assistant-fiancee—I mean my fiancee-assistant—looked up. After the man had gone she asked me:

"'What was that man saying about Eliza Pendleton?'

"'Why do you ask?'

"'Because that was my mother's name before she married my father.'

"It was probable that there were a great many Eliza Pendletons, but it struck me the matter was worth looking into. Evelyn told me that she knew nothing of her father's family, but that her grandfather on her mother's side was named Nathan Witridge. I had her typewrite a letter to the manager of the property, giving this information. He had gone back to where he lived and didn't get the letter till the next day. Then I received a telegram giving an affirmative reply and asking why I wished to know. This began to look peculiar. I replied by telegraph that my typewriter was the granddaughter of Nathan Witridge Pendleton. The reply to this was, 'If she can prove it I am ready to pay her $800,000.'

"Evelyn Brickworth had no difficulty in finding the requisite proof and, being the only living heir, got the property. It was lucky for me that I had courted and won her while she was poor, for to do so after she became rich would have been beyond my pride.".

"Fate does work queer things. There are three links in your chain, each of which was essential."

MAGISTRATES AT OUTS

Strained Relations Between Two Justices Intensified Yesterday.

Strained relations between two of the magistracy of the county, which has existed for a long time, was intensified yesterday, and came pretty near resulting in a personal encounter on the street in front of the many "Temples of Justice" on Princess street.

It seems that for some time past the best of feeling has not existed between "Judge" G. W. Bornemann and Justice James H. Sykes. Both of the magistrates were at Carolina Beach Thursday night, and it is understood that "Judge" Bornemann stated to several friends yesterday morning that 'Squire Sykes was in an intoxicated condition while at the beach. 'Squire Sykes was informed of what was said about him and when "Judge" Bornemann passed Recorder Furlong's office late in the afternoon he was hailed by 'Squire Sykes. The "Judge," it appears, refused to stop and continued to his office, being followed to the door by 'Squire Sykes, who related what he had heard that the "judge" had said about him. He hurled several epithets at the "judge" as he entered his office door and declared that the charge made against him was absolutely false, using President Roosevelt's favorite term in expressing himself. This ended the matter as "Judge" Bornemann remained in his office, and 'Squire Sykes went to Recorder Furlong, where he submitted to a charge of disorderly conduct, the warrant being read to him by Deputy Sheriff Howe. It is thought probable that the case will be continued today.

THE REUNION TODAY

Spanish-American War Veterans at Carolina Beach—Crowd

The reunion of Spanish-American war veterans of Wilmington and Fort Caswell at Carolina Beach this afternoon, will make it a feature day at the Beach, and the indications are that a large crowd from Wilmington will attend. Interesting features have been arranged in connection with the reunion and the post band from Caswell will furnish a fine programme of music appropriate to the celebration.

The fort soldiers have many friends in Wilmington, particularly in the local militia, which recently participated in the Coast Defense exercises at the fort, many of whom will doubtless be present and take part in the exercises.

—There seems to have been a mistake as to the award of prizes for the recent floral parade in the Liberty Point celebration at Fayetteville. Misses Jean Pemberton and Lina Haigh, who drove tandem, received the first prize.

—A wrecking train was sent out from Wilmington yesterday to clear up the Wilmington & Weldon line at Faison, N. C., where a locomotive was entirely derailed. The crew expected to have the line clear in time for the passenger trains to be operated without delay.

Old Board Will Meet Again.

All doubt as to whether the present County Board of Education should hold another meeting was removed yesterday morning, when a letter was received by Prof. Washington Catlett from State Superintendent Joyner to the effect that it was customary for the retiring board to meet on the first Monday in July and wind-up the business of the year, the educational affairs of the county being turned over to the new board about noon of that day.

Hard Luck at Rocky Mount

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 25.—Today the first game of the doubleheader went to Raleigh by a score of two to one due to timely hitting and the fact that the locals could not connect when a hit was needed to score a run though Bowles was many times in a hole and was laced out for ten hits but only one run was netted. Clever base running by the visitors and never dying until the last man was down caused their run getting and made the game break in their favor. Thorpe was on the mound and pitched a game that should have meant victory for him but ragged support and the allowing of a fly ball to hit the ground in center when there was time to spare. Had Krebs not been disabled this would have cut off the winning run. Score:

Raleigh .....100 001 000—2 6 1

Batteries—Thorpe and Walsh and Stephens: Bowles and Rowe; time 1:50.

After nine innings Umpire McLaughlin called the second on account of rain and darkness caused by an approaching storm. Both teams had scored four times and there was a good deal more snap manifested by each than in the first game. Raleigh had one earned run while the locals secured two. Bowles was sent in to pitch but was relieved in the opening of the seventh by Pope. Smith did the slinging for the crew and was pounced upon for seven hits though he kept them well apart, his scoring having been in the main attributable to his wildness. Score:

Wilson Takes Both.

Fayetteville, N. C., June 25.—Wilson took both of a double-header this afternoon by the scores 5 to 1 and 3 to 0. The feature of the first game was Schumaker's home run, the longest hit ever knocked on the home grounds. Anderson allowed only two hits. The worst feature of the games was the umpiring.

Manager Charles Moss, of the local team was released last night and W. U. Guerrant, third baseman was appointed manager in his stead. The change was made by the directors owing to the fact that the team is leading in the league in batting and fielding but is at the bottom of the percentage column: Score:

GRINS.

Next!

Skunked 'em!

Joy's on tap now.

The worm has turned.

And Wilson won again. My! My!

"Please don't take me home!" I've got to talk it over with the bugs.

The Sailors' actions indicated they know something about noughtical affairs after all.

Flinger Forbes didn't heave so worse, but he didn't separate his bingles quite as wide as Reuben.

Howard served them up rare to his erstwhile tent-mates, and the way he wielded his little brush was a caution.

If this keeps up any longer we just know the editor of the Argus will have to invest in a Billiken, or risk spoiling his disposition.

Kite donned the windpad for the locals and did conscientious work on the receiving end; and he also poled out the hit that basketed our lone tally.

Raleigh rung up the first of the doubleheader with Rocky Mount, yanking Chief Thorpe's scalp from his cranium and then giving him the big Minnehaha.

This is how 'twas done. Levy piloted a screamer into center for two stations; Jayes martyred; and on Kite's howler to right the tall one coasted over the hearthstone. That's co-operation for you.

Taking Sporting Life's word for it, the Philadelphia Americans are claiming an option on Rath, "the rising infielder of Reading." Oh! if we just had Rathy scampering around on the sand lot now.

It is reported from Goldsboro that capitalists are considering the advisability of establishing a gas plant there. What's the use? The fans ought to be able to supply the demand, judging from their take-all-three-games talk.

Now let's turn out a record-breaking attendance today. The boys want encouragement, and the team needs the money. The slim crowds prevalent recently have been very disheartening to those financially interested, and otherwise, in the league; and if we are to continue to see ball this Summer a better patronage will be necessary.

The Sailors' lone etrror happened in the 9th. After Crockett had died to short, Capt. Dick tried to annex a bewhiskered one that was too warm to handle and in recovering threw a little off the range to 1st, Steinbach, the runner, taking second, albeit he was instantly afterwards retired on a double by a quick throw from Levy after taking in Doak's tap.

FISTICUFF AT BALL GROUNDS.

Mr. Hardy L. Fennell and Goldsboro Player Exchanged Compliments.

As the crowds were hurrying away from the baseball grounds after the game yesterday afternoon and just as they had passed through the gates to the cars, a sensational little mill was pulled off between Mr. Hardy L. Fennell, of this city, and Pitcher Otis, of the Goldsboro team. According to reports, in passing through the gates Pitcher Otis had some words with Mr. James Fennell, a son of the elder Mr. Fennell. The latter remonstrated with the Goldsboro player, who is something of a giant in size and physique as well as Mr. Fennell, who told Otis that he should not be talking in that manner to a boy. Otis is reported to have replied that he would talk to him, if that was agreeable, whereupon the elder Mr. Fennell dealt him a blow in the mouth that sent him sprawling across the street car track. Several team mates of Otis ran up and held Mr. Fennell to prevent further trouble and Otis is reported to have recovered himself and struck Mr. Fennell while the players were holding him, but very soon Deputy Sheriff A. T. Piver arrived and put a stop to the argument before any of the combatants were seriously hurt.

EVANGELIST TORREY ACCEPTS.

Dr. R. A. Torrey, the noted evangelist, has definitely given his consent to conduct the series of evangelistic meetings, which were recently agreed upon at a meeting of the local Ministerial Board with laymen from the various churches, to be held during the month of March, 1910.

Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, yesterday received a letter from him accepting the plans of the ministers here to hold the revival. Dr. Torrey will bring with him a number of religious workers, who will assist him in the meetings.

For the past week Dr. Torrey has been conducting a great revival in Winston-Salem, which has been attended by immense crowds.

Broke Into Depot at Dudley.

It was discovered yesterday morning that the depot at Dudley, on the Wilmington & Weldon railroad, had been broken into during the night, but fortunately only a small amount of change left in a drawer was stolen. From all that can be learned, the thief was after packages of liquor that he thought might have been among the express shipments of the day.

To Ailing Women

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many a Sufferer in Wilmington.

No woman can be healthy and well if the kidneys are sick. Poisons that pass off in the secretions when the kidneys are well, are retained in the body when the kidneys are sick. Kidneys and bladder become inflamed and swollen and worse troubles quickly follow. This is often the true cause of bearing down pains, lameness, backache, sideache, etc. Uric poisoning also causes headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy that cures sick kidneys. You will get better as the kidneys get better, and health will return when the kidneys are well. Let a Wilmington woman tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. J. E. Marshburn, 516 Castle St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I suffered a great deal from backache and pains through my loins. Headaches were also frequent and the kidney secretions passed irregularly. I always felt tired and languid and little like doing my housework. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at Robert R. Bellamy's drug store, cured me and improved my health. I am willing to have my name used in endorsing such a reliable remedy."

For sale by all dearers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

SIX MONTHS FOR RETAILING

The Sentence Imposed Upon Roland Young by the Recorder Yesterday—Negro Gets Three Years—Other Cases.

Six months on the county roads was the sentence imposed by Recorder Furlong yesterday morning upon Roland W. Young, who was convicted of the charge of selling whiskey to E. D. Ward one day last week. The defendant conducts a near-beer saloon on Market street, between Front and Water, and this was the second time he had been before the court since prohibition went into effect, being let off the first time upon the payment of a fine of $50 and costs

Through his attorney, Walter P. Gafford, Esq., the defendant gave notice of an appeal to the Superior Court and his bond was fixed at $500, which he gave. The State was represented by City Attorney Herbert McClammy and County Attorney Marsden Bellamy.

E. D. Ward testified that he purchased a quart of whiskey at one time and a pint at another from the defendant, being sent to his place of business for this purpose by Patrolman M. C. Huggins. The defendant did not contest the case.

Sentences aggregating three years were imposed upon Son Wagener, colored, for larceny in three different cases. He submitted to stealing a pair of pants from the store of Isaac Shain, a ham from H. W. Konig's store and a number of tools from Jerry Hand, who resides near where the negro stayed. The stolen articles were found in the possession of the defendant and were identified by the owners. The Recorder gave the prisoner one year in each case. Wagener is considered a worthless character.

Randolph Croswell, colored, was before the court on the charge of failure to provide for the support of his wife. The Recorder told him that he would either have to serve a term of 12 months on the county roads or give $100 bond to be forfeited in case he failed to pay his wife $1.50 a week. Croswell was unable to give the bond and was carried to jail.

W. A. Brown, who was arrested on Thursday afternoon on the charge of assault upon his wife with a deadly weapon, was given a hearing for carrying a razor concealed on his person. The razor was found on him when searched at police headquarters. The defendant declared that he put the razor in his pocket to bring it down town to have it sharpened, and the Recorder suspended judgment upon payment of costs. The case against him for assault was tried before Justice Harriss and dismissed for lack of evidence.

Two cases against Emma Banks, colored, for disorderly conduct were dismissed and the prosecutor, Mary Boon, colored, was taxed with the costs.

AN UNWASHED PRINCE.

The Lesson That Ended His Kicks About Morning Baths.

When Emperor William II. was a small boy he had a strong objection to being washed in the morning, and his governess, having had some unpleasant experiences with him and being in some doubt as to what she had better do, appealed to his father, the then Crown Prince Frederick. Frederick answered, "The next time he gives any trouble on this score leave him alone to his own pleasure and report to me."

Naturally it was not long before the young prince refused to go through the purification process, and the governess followed the orders received.

Now, the boy had a little carriage and was very fond of driving out in the morning, and he generally ordered the coachman to go by way of the Brandenburg gate, as it amused and flattered him to see the soldiers in the barrack, just inside the gate, turn out and present arms as the heir to the empire passed their quarters. Accordingly on the morning of his disobedience the order was, as usual, "To the Brandenburg gate," and the carriage rolled rapidly thither. But what was the amazement and the rage of the princeling on arriving there to see no soldiers except those on guard, and they took not the slightest notice of him. In a towering passion he ordered the coachman to return to the palace, where, rushing into his father's room, he complained of the indecent behavior of the guard and demanded their condign punishment.

But his father only smiled and said in the gentlest voice: "Fuer ungewaschener prinz wird niemals praesentirt" ("An unwashed prince is never saluted").—Harper's Weekly.

High Art.

"Are you blind, prisoner?" inquired the magistrate.

"Yes, your worship."

"You are charged with vagrancy. How did you lose your sight?"

"By a fit of appleplexy, sir."

"But there is a picture on your breast representing an explosion in a mine, through which, it is stated, you became blind. How is this?"

"Please, your worship, I couldn't afford to pay a hartist as could paint appleplexy."—London Answers.

Bonitz, who drew the plans, will be in charge of the work. Under the terms of the lease Mr. S. A. Schloss will expend $6,000 in improving the interior of the house and the expenditure of this amount will make it second to none in the State.

According to the plans there will be a complete re-arrangement of the seats on the main floor, increasing the seating capacity by about 50. The chairs now used in the orchestra will be placed in the gallery and new leather back chairs have been ordered for the orchestra. The balcony will be changed and a number of improvements made. The foyer will be changed, which will give more assembling room, ladies' and gentlemen's toilets will be provided, additional fire escapes will be constructed and new exits will be arranged on the north side. The plans provide for six new and handsome boxes in place of two as at present.

The house will be decorated according to the Louis XV design and new scenery will be purchased. The contract for the decorative work has not been let yet. The work will be completed by September 1st.

—Charlotte News: The Chadwick-Hoskins Company is making plans for extensive improvements in the way of building and adding further equipments to the Calvine Mill, No. 3, of the Chadwick-Hoskins system of mills. The improvements will represent an expenditure of something like $100,000. The plant to be improved is the old Calvine Mill, in the northern part of the city, and is now called Mill No. 3 being one of the five cotton factories belonging to the Chadwick-Hoskins Company. It now operates 13,000 spindles and 7,000 more will be added. Besides this new equipment the company is contemplating the building of two new cotton warehouses, 50x100 feet each and several tenement houses. The plant now has enough floor space for the spindles, but it may be necessary to add a little weave shed. Some of the material is on the ground for these improvements and the other has been bought, so the work will begin right away. The company has not decided exactly as to the number of tenement houses to be built. This mill is owned by a corporation of which the following gentlemen are officers: Messrs. E. A. Smith, president; W. F. Draper, vice president; A. J. Draper, treasurer, and E. C. Dwelle, secretary and assistant treasurer. The power to operate this mill is furnished by the Catawba Electric Company's great hydro-electric plant. After this addition of 7,000 spindles it will be one of the largest mills in this section of the country.

A Thrilling Rescue.

How Bert R. Lean, of Cheny, Wash. was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A hard cold," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever." TELEPHONE MEN CONFER

Officials of Southern Bell and Representatives of Wilmington District Lines Held Conference "For Good of Service"—Dinner.

A conference of telephone men representing the various operating lines in the Wilmington district was held on Wednesday and Thursday of this week at the Southern Bell Telephone offices in this city for the purpose of discussing business methods and means for providing the public with a more adequate and efficient service.

Nine counties comprise the Wilmington District and there are eight telephone companies, all having connection with the long distance system of the Southern Bell company, and the entire number were represented at the conference. The local telephone people in making a statement in regard to the conference say that the prime object was to promote a more general development of the telephone business in the territory mentioned through a standardization of methods and a hearty co-operation of the various companies interested.

Those present at the conference were Mr. J. W. Crews, general commercial superintendent; Division Commercial Superintendent M. B. Speir and Manager R. L. Boyd, of the Southern Bell company, with representatives from the sub-license companies as follows: Mr. Charles R. Scarborough, Conway Telephone Co., Conway, S. C.; Mr. F. W. K. Kellum, Onslow Telephone Co., Jacksonville, N. C.; Messrs. A. K. Hilburn and R. D. Pridgen, Canetuck Telephone Co., Cronly, N. C.; Messrs. J. C. Williams and Maury Ward, Rose Hill Telephone Co., Rose Hill, N. C.; Mr. R. D. Carr, Hallsville Telephone Co., Hallsville, N. C.; Mr. J. D. Johnson, Garland-Clinton Telephone Co., Clinton, N. C.; Mr. J. C. McMillan, Teachys Telephone Co., Teachy's, N. C.; Mr. G. R. Ward, Wallace Telephone Co., Wallace, N. C.

The proposed advance in telephone rates, which has recently been discussed and taken up with the Chamber of Commerce, had no concern whatever with the telephone men's conference.

On Thursday at the conclusion of the meeting the representatives of the Southern Bell company had as their guests the visitors and they were served with dinner at the Seashore Hotel, the afternoon being devoted to recreation on the Beach.

The March of the Caravan.

Perhaps the weirdest and most impressive of the many unwonted memories that the traveler carries away with him from travel in the east is the recollection of the camel caravans which he has encountered at night. Out of the black darkness is heard the distant boom of a heavy bell. Mournfully and with perfect regularity of iteration it sounds, gradually swelling nearer and louder and perhaps mingling with the tones of smaller bells signaling the rear guard of the same caravan. The big bell is the insignia and alarm of the leading camel alone. But, nearer and louder as the sound becomes, not another sound and not a visible object appears to accompany it. Suddenly and without the slightest warning there looms out of the darkness, like the apparition of a phantom ship, the form of the captain of the caravan. His spongy tread sounds softly on the smooth sand, and like a great string of linked ghouls the silent procession stalks by and is swallowed up in the night.—"Persia and the Persian Question."

It Is to Smile.

In walking through a train a smile always relieves the tension of the moment, even if it is the train of your hostess' best dinner gown.

A smile is frequently used to conceal a vacuum. If it is a broad smile, however, it defeats its purpose.

If your newly married friends insist upon your holding the baby, grab the infant firmly by the back of the neck and smile. The parents will remove the child at once.

If your dinner partner is talking over your head, smile. He will probably grow uncomfortable immediately and change the subject.

If your rival appears to be cutting you out with the only girl, smile. This will rouse her suspicions at once, and she will devote the rest of her time trying to find out who "that girl" is.

A smile is a handy thing to have round, even when it is as broad as it is long. It may square a long standing grievance.—Puck.

Modest Dan Hayes.

An old playbill of the Kilkenny Theater Royal for May 14, 1793, was a few years ago reprinted in the Western (England) Mail, and the following is an extract from it:

"The tragedy of 'Hamlet,' originally written and composed by the celebrated Dan Hayes of Limerick and inserted in Shakespeare's works."

The playbill concludes with the interesting notice that "no person whatsoever will be admitted into the boxes without shoes or stockings." It is probable that this Irish claimant to the honor of the authorship of "Hamlet" is not so well known as his astounding claim might warrant.

Pretty Thin.

"My dear," said a thin little Brighton man to his wife, "this paper says that there is a woman down in Devonshire who goes out and chops wood with her husband."

"Well, what of it? I think she could easily do it if he is as thin as you are. I have often thought of using you to peel potatoes with."

The thin man laid down his paper with a sigh that sounded like the squeak of a penny whistle.—London Answers.

Immediate Results.

Mrs. Hinnesy—Jamie, phwat's thot noise? James—'Tis little Paddy Mulligan pokin' a shtick into th' ribs o' Casey's goat. Mrs. Hinnesy—Ah, he's shtopped now! James—No, mother; he's goin' yet. I think he won't shtop till he strikes th' house.—Exchange.

A Little Slow.

"How's collections at your church, Brudder Shinn?"

"Well, we ain't nebber had to stop in de middle ob a collection to go an' empty de box."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Grateful Man.

"Whenever I look at my wife," said the husband of the celebrated fattest woman on earth, "I feel that I have a great deal to be thankful for."—Chicago Tribune.

Industry keeps the body healthy, the mind clear, the heart whole, the purse full.—Simmons.

Women Who Are Envied.

Those attractive women who are lovely in face form and temper are the envy of many, who might be like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation or Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion. Many charming women owe their health and beauty to them. 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

A Cowboy Spider.

"Faking aside," said the nature student, "there is in New Zealand a cowboy spider. This creature throws a coil of web like a lasso over its prey's head, then adds more and more coils and when the prey is bound hand and foot devours it.

"There is a Borneo spider that in the spring days plays a fiddle. It is a common thing for a lovesick spider to dance before his girl, but this Borneo boy my drawing his arm across his tum produces a sweet, clear note. Whenever he sees a good looking young lady spider he stops and gives her a tune, hoping to win her by music."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Miners' Freedom From Cancer.

"Miners never have cancer. In thirty-five years' practice in a mining town I haven't had a single cancerous patient."

"And to what, doctor, do you impute this immunity?"

"Miners are singularly cleanly. They bathe every day. They rarely smoke. They are a temperate and regular set. Above all"—

The physician smiled grimly.

"Miners," he said, "die young. Cancer is an old age disease. And there really is the reason of the miner's cancerous immunity."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Not the Same.

"Excuse me," he said as he entered the public library at Pegantic, "but do you have any social registers here?"

"No, we hain't," said the librarian, with considerable hauteur. "This here buildin' is het up by steam, and we hain't got nothin' but radiators, and we don't allow no settin' around with your feet on to them neither. The nearest thing we got to a social registry in this town is the postoffice stove."—Lippincott's.

Amatite ROOFING

Lumber is getting scarce and shingles are not only higher in price, but they are poor in quality.

When you put a roof on your building, it isn't temporary relief and a medium amount of satisfaction that you want, but permanent relief and complete satisfaction.

Amatite is a real mineral surfaced roofing. Get it and you will experience at once what roof satisfaction is and what roofing difficulties can be prevented.

You will find that it needs no painting or attention of any kind after it is laid.

It doesn't pay to patch old roofs when you can get a new Amatite roof at scarcely any greater cost.

Amatite is easy to lay and can be nailed on over the old roof without trouble.

Get a sample of Amatite and do a little investigating. It won't do any harm, and when your roof needs attention or you erect a new building you will be glad to use it.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

The Pender Chronicle says the bears on Lillington Creek are growing fat on hogs and huckleberries. Some of the swine herders are becoming excited over their frequent visits as they are doing great damage.

—Lincolnton, June 22.—The Lincolnton Milling Company has resumed work after having been shut down for about 10 days while new machinery was being installed. The mill is very much improved.

—Goldsboro, N. C., June 24.—The Postal Telegraph Cable Company will open an office here in June. Superintendent Riddle, who is now in the city, has secured for the local office the room adjoining the Hotel Kennon. This room will be put in order at once —Lumberton Robesonian: Mr. W. M. Worley has arrived to make arrangements for the opening of the tobacco season which will be about the 15th of July. Several farmers are already curing tobacco, and the prospects are good for the largest crop which has been raised in this section for some time.

—Morehead City, June 24—Elzie, the 3-year-old son of T. C. Guthrie, a fisherman, was probably fatally injured here this morning in an unusual manner. The lad was toying with a 12-gauge shotgun cartridge when it exploded, lacerating his face in a horrible manner. His nose was blown off, both eyes put out and the flesh torn to ribbons. If the lad recovers he will be disfigured for life.

—Salisbury Post: A movement is on foot for the holding of a colored fair here some time during the coming fall. Stock in the enterprise is being freely subscribed and everything points to a successful ending of his project, in fact a prominent and influential member of the race said this morning that the fair would certainly be held. It is purposed to hold this fair at the Yadkin Valley fair grounds.

—Goldsboro, June 24.—The rails of the new street car line, with the completion of the square along Walnut street between the Bank of Wayne and west Centre street, are now laid from the union station to the graded school, and from the extreme limit of Revile park to the Norfolk & Southern railroad track. It is reasonable to believe that within a comparatively short time the cars will be in operation through the city from the depot to East Goldsboro.

—Lumberton Robesonian: Lila Sott who was released from jail a few days ago, having given bond for her appearance at July court, was arrested again yesterday by Deputy Marshal McLauchlin and carried to Maxton on the evening train. A hearing was had before U. S. Commissioner B. F. McLean last night, and not being able to make the required $200 bond for appearance at the next term of Federal court in Wilmington, Lila was brought back to Lumberton where she was again placed in jail.

—Raleigh News and Observer, June 24.—The numerous friends of Dr. W. H. Whitehead, of Rocky Mount, will be grieved to learn of his death in this city yesterday morning. He had been seriously ill for several months. He was in his 58th year. The remains were taken to Rocky Mount yesterday and the funeral will be held there this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Dr. Whitehead was one of the most prominent physicians in the State. For years he had been division surgeon and adjuster of damages for the Atlantic Coast Line Railway. He was a graduate of the University of Maryland and until 1892 lived in Baltimore. Since that time he had practiced in Rocky Mount.

—Southport Herald: On last Sunday the first mail was opened in Southport's handsome new postoffice. The new building together with the fittings inside are both a credit to Southport and her people are to be congratulated and postmaster Davis should receive the appreciation of the people for his energy and progressiveness in providing such an up-to-date office. The cases are all solid oak of pleasing and handsome appearance extending from one side of the building clear to the other with large open space for the public. Separate windows are provided for money orders, general delivery and stamps. There are a large number of lock boxes and several large drawers, all of which are fitted up with the latest and most improved combinations which can be sprung in the dark as well as in the day.

—Lillington Creek correspondence Pender Chronicle: The Red Lion Lumber Co., of Sand Hill, are placing their machinery in their old plant here, which they expect soon to put in operation. They are also grading and laying track for a three mile tram to their timber. While grading out for their large dry kiln, about 150 feet from the river, and when about four feet deep, they struck a vault or round brick wall. There is no record here of the wall's being built and it is supposed to have been constructed by English workmen in the early days of the colonies. The cap of the vault was removed and revealed a short distance off, a partition. Upon entering this partition a dozen or more bones were discovered. These are thought not to be human because of their size. The vault was followed eight or ten feet and still continued when investigation was stopped for fear of ruining the site for the kiln.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 25.—While somewhat nervous and irregular the cotton market was generally higher today, with the close firm at a net advance of 13 to 16 points. The opening was steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 2 points and during the first few minutes the market sold 6 to 8 points net higher on bull support and covering due to better cables than expected and very bullish condition reports indicating deterioration for the month for the crops of Georgia and Alabama; particularly severe in the latter state.

At first the bullish crop news, being modified to some extent by a favorable weather map, did not seem to stimulate much buying for long account for over the week-end and during the middle of the day prices sagged off to practically the closing figures of last night under scattering liquidation. There was, however, no sign of bear pressure, and in the afternoon a buying movement was started by reports of higher spot markets, very bullish gossip concerning the position of July contracts in New Orleans, and private wires complaining of further rains in the central belt. The advance started by this demand attracted more general buying and the market during the the last hour was very active and firm selling within a point or two of the higher records made in last Wednesday. The close was at practically the best. Southern spot markets officially reported early were unchanged to 1-16c higher.

Receipts at the ports today were 5,067 bales against 3,749 last week and 4,930 last year. For the week 30,000 bales against 33,540 last week and 43,424 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 2,232 bales against 1,208 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 10 points higher; middling uplands 11.70; middling gulf 11.95; sales 412 bales.

Futures opened steady and closed firm.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 25.—The cotton goods market ruled very firm, advances having been made for the day in some lines of bleached cottons and a numbers of drills and sheetings. Cotton yarns have been purchased more liberally in small lots. The local wool market is generally quiet owing to the scarcity of stocks. Some lines of class III. wools are being bought for men's wear purposes. The jobbers will open semi-annual clearance sales Monday morning.

MARKET GOSSIP.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 25.—The action of the stock market today was not illuminating in showing the state of financial sentiment. The constant backing and filling of prices indicated lack of conviction and hesitation about pursuing a price movement in either direction. There were periods of weakness alternating with periods of strength and neither was a response to any known news. The reactionary movement of the Union Pacific stocks rather discredited the rumors that had been used to push the preferred stock suddenly to 110 and the publication of the plans of the Southern Pacific Company for merging and organizing its Mexican properties arouse a suspicion that this might be a matter that had given rise to all the surmises of a coming Harriman financial plan. The copper industrials were a center of depression in the market. The speculative contest was waged insistently in Reading and the erratic fluctuations in that stock kept the whole market unsettled. A decline of a point and a period of wavering fluctuations were followed by a brisk advance, which placed it more than two points above last night's prices. The publication of the preliminary estimates of the week's currency movement was an influence in lifting prices of stocks. A few specialties showed isolated strength due to particular causes. The price movement was confused to the end.

Bonds were steady. Total sales par value, $5,580,000. United States 4s registered declined 1-4 and the coupon 1-2 per cent. on call. Total sales today 594,700 shares.

FINANCIAL MARKET.

Time loans dull and weak; sixty days 2 1-4 to 2 1-2 per cent., and ninety days 2 12 to 2 3-4 per cent.; six months 3 1-4 to 3 1-2 per cent., prime mercantile paper 3 1-2 to 4 per cent. Sterling exchange firm with actual business in bankers bills at 4.8650 to 4.8660 for sixty day bills and at 4.8805 for demand. Commercial bills 4.86 to 4.86 3-8. Bar silver 52 1-4. MURDERER IS DEAD take charge of his body and his property.

The authorities, after a thorough investigation, apparently have cast aside this theory. The first word received from Miss Bradcome today conveyed the somewhat baffling information that she knew nothing of a Mr. Roberts or of Eastman. Foreman Radcliffe of the coroner's jury telegraphed Miss Bradcome to come and take possession of the body, however, and received a reply saying she could not because of lack of funds. He has now telegraphed her to draw on him for $50.

The authorities seem to believe with Col. Charles H. Thompson, of McDaniel, the foster father of the girl, that Eastman, in whose company she last was seen alive, was responsible for the death of Mrs. Woodill.

That Eastman was infatuated with the girl was well known. She in turn, it would seem, was fascinated by him at times and possibly frightened by his attentions.

The girl met Eastman Saturday, was seen to leave the McDaniel wharf in a launch with him and Wednesday her body was found floating on the surface of Rose Creek, crudely tied to a rope and weighted with iron bricks.

Mrs. Woodill, the wife of Gilbert Woodill, an automobile dealer in Los Angeles, who had been on a visit to her relatives, had intended leaving in a few days to rejoin her husband, to whom she was ostensibly happily married.

St. Michaels, Md., June 25.—In order more fully to investigate clues offered by letters found in Eastman's possession and which are withheld, the coroner has determined to postpone a further inquest into the death of Mrs. Woodill. A witness has been found who is said to have overheard the voices of several persons merrymaking in Eastman's bungalow Sunday night. Among the voices of the women the man is said to have recognized that of Mrs. Woodill.

Eastman, according to the information received here failed in New York last year was arrested twice in Chicago last August for grand larceny and since that time has been a fugitive from justice.

Eastman's identity was established through a deed found in his possession, conveying certain property in Bogota, Bergen county, New Jersey, which he is known to have held.

The scene of the double tragedy is in a region of winding, silver creeks and rivers—a maze of shallow waterways. Eastman was lost in the tall grasses of this maze for a night and a day but driven to seek a landing place in search of food and water. He was trapped just opposite the home of the foster parent of the victim. There with every avenue of escape locked against him, after hours of vain rowing to shake off a band of pursuers he ended his own life.

Up to a late hour tonight the authorities would not divulge the text of Eastman's letter and the report persisted that new light might yet be thrown upon the tragedy.

Eastman, after the crime was committed, watched the development of the murder charges with a smile on his face. All the morning on Monday after the crime he sat in the telegraph office at McDaniel. In the afternoon he went to Baltimore to mail the letter which Miss Carrie Thompson received on Wednesday morning stating that Mrs. Woodill was with a friend in Baltimore and which would have delayed the search for some days if the body had not been discovered. He returned on Tuesday night.

MANY DEATHS FROM HEAT.

Maximum Temperature High at 92—Prostrations Numerous.

New York, June 25.—Almost the entire State of New York and practically all of New England sweltered today.

The maximum temperature recorded here was 92. There were at least seven deaths in the city proper due to heat, one suicide and two attempts at suicide. Prostrations were so frequent as to pass almost unnoticed. Conditions were almost unbearable in the manufacturing centers of New England and many mills and shops were closed. Two deaths were reported at Providence, R. I., and one at New Bedford, Mass.

In New York city the east side suffered most and many of the small and poorly ventilated factories shut down during the afternoon.

ATTEMPTED CRIME.

Women at Aiken, S. C., Attacked by Negro.

Aiken, S. C., June 25.—A young woman was the victim of an attempted assault committed by an unidentified negro in the northern section of this county, according to a message received today by Sheriff Raborn. The sheriff was told that feeling ran high over the incident and that the perpetrator of the deed might meet violence at the hands of an angry mob. The sheriff hastened to the scene and is supposed to be on the trail of the assailant.

NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE.

Tennessee-North Carolina Association OPens in July.

Knoxville, Tenn., June 25.—The Tennessee-North Carolina baseball league was organized today at a meeting at Morristown, Tenn. The league is composed of Knoxville and Morristown, in Tennessee, Asheville, Hendersonville, Waynesville and Canton, in North Carolina. The season will open July 8 and continue until September 11.

Vagaries of a Cold.

In winter cold may settle in the bowels. In the summer it may give you colic or summer complaint. But don't fear appendicitis or inflammation of the bowels. At the first pain or cramp take Perry Davis' Painkiller in warm water and relief will come at once. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. A large 35c. size as well as the 50c. size.
